

GOODNESTONE

QUINTESSENTIAL ENGLAND

Getting Ready

---

The Bride and her bridesmaids can get ready in the grand FitzWalter Bedrooms suite or the first-floor drawing room, the Jane Austen Room. Both of these have spectacular views over the east-facing parterre and extensive countryside.

---

---

The majestic oak staircase is the perfect place to capture magical photos of your wedding day.

---

Church Ceremony

---

If you wish to have a traditional church wedding ceremony, the Holy Cross Church is only 5 minutes walk from Goodnestone Park.

---

Civil Ceremony

---

If you prefer a civil ceremony, both the house and gardens are licenced to carry this out; the round room in the house is used for smaller ceremonies and the Coach House for larger groups.

---

---

Walk back from the church through the picturesque Holly Walk and Goodnestone
Park's Walled Gardens.

---

Reception

---

Enjoy your wedding reception on the east side of the house, with views into the extensive countryside.

---

---

You can choose to hold your Wedding Reception amongst the flowers, in the Park's Walled Garden.

Goodnestone Park is fully licenced to hold wedding parties of up to 150.

---

---

Choose from a selection of marquees to host your evening celebrations.

Every last detail of the wedding is bespoke, tailored to the wedding party's tastes.

---

Stay

---

The wedding party stays in Goodnestone mansion where they can be waited upon on hand and foot.

---

---

Relax in true luxury after the big day, in one of Goodnestone Park's twelve bedroom suites, most of which have their own en suites. It's the perfect place to spend precious time with friends and family.

---

---

Other wedding guests can enjoy a glamping experience, spending the night in luxurious bell tents in the estate's extensive grounds.

---

GOODNESTONE

---

QUINTESSENTIAL ENGLAND

